

The „Sisi Road“ – discover the life of Empress Elisabeth

...in Merano 2021

Gärten von Schloss Trauttmansdorff

Coming from Upper Austria, travel to the Italian sector of Sisi Route is possible either by the Jaufenpass (=former travel route of Empress Sisi to Italy) or Brenner. From Bad Ischl via the Jaufenpass to Merano about 350km.

Merano in South Tyrol has been the residence of the Empress in 1870 and in 1889 – through the winter season. Also, her both daughters have been with her in Merano. The bland climate has improved the health of her daughter Valerie very rapid and so Merano became immediately a famous spa town. Elisabeth made lots of strolls through her stay, and nowadays you can walk along the Sisi Path. The Sisi Path leads you from the castle Trauttmansdorff to the Kaiserin-Elisabeth-Park and the marble Sisi statue in Merano.

She has spent 14 days in castle Trauttmansdorff – today it's a tourist magnet and shows the gorgeous gardens the whole world.

In 2005 the gardens have been elected the “most beautiful garden” of Italy.

The second visit of the Empress in Meran was not so pleasant. After the suicide of her only son Franz Ferdinand in Mayerling in the Vienna Woods, the Empress withdrew to the castle Trauttmansdorff
